Classroom News

April 5, 2018

We hope you had a relaxing spring break with your families. Amazingly, the end of the school year is right around the corner. With about 5 weeks left, we have quite a bit of excitement to fit in!

We have changed the classroom environment to include many things related to spring. This includes our discovery table. If you would like to contribute anything to our spring discovery table, some ideas are spring birds/animals, flowers, feathers, nests, new leaves, pinwheels, nature discoveries, etc. If anyone has any bird stuffed animals that make actual bird calls, we would love to borrow them! We especially love items from nature, but a quick trip to the dollar store is always a fun and easy way for your child to find something to contribute. Now is the time for teachers to listen and observe for ideas for our next project. We'll certainly keep you updated!

Thanks for partnering with us,
Lisa and Kathy

Project...

We are especially excited to explore and learn about our final project, "Camouflage!" Not only are we reading books and researching, but the froggies are having lots of hands-on fun.

Author Study

In the classroom, the children loved the books of Emily Gravett. We are now moving on to our next author, Nancy Tafuri.

General Info

Please keep an eye out for the End of the Year Survival Guide, which was sent home in backpacks yesterday. There are many fun events that you will want to remember!
